LESS PRECIOUS URANIUM USED

'Bargain Bomb' Tipped As Latest On U.S. List

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The United States may be planning to test "bargain bombs"—that is, A-bombs packing full-scale power but with smaller amounts of precious atomic explosive.

This is an unofficial view, because both the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department, in announcing a new series of atomic tests will be held at Eniwetok, offered no clue as to their nature. Not even the date of the start of the tests was announced.

The unofficial view goes this way:

The U. S., at its Nevada proving grounds last fall, successfully tested a series of weapons generally presumed to be relatively small atomic bombs, perhaps designed for tactical uses in support of troops rather than for long range bombing of enemy industrial targets.

And, from lessons learned in the development of such smaller-type bombs, America's atomic weapons may well have devised possible means for getting greater explosive efficiency out of the city-blasting types.

IN OTHER WORDS, the bomb-makers may have found theoretical ways of using less explosive and yet getting as much explosive wham as was produced by the full-scale models previously tested at Eniwetok. If so, they may now be planning to put these theories to a test.

The AEC, in describing results of tests at Eniwetok last year, said information was gained on the effects of weapons "several times more powerful than the Hiroshima and Nagasaki weapons."

If this unofficial view is correct—and the Eniwetok tests pan out successfully—the significance would be this:

The U. S. would, in effect, have substantially expanded its atomic arsenal at a "bargain" rate, so far as expenditure of precious uranium and plutonium explosive is concerned.

April Draft Call Set At 19,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The Defense Department's 19,000-man draft call for April is the lowest total since 16,900 were called last September.

Announcing that the Army needs 15,000 men and the Marine Corps 4,000 in April, the department said fewer draftees were being called because more men are volunteering and more veterans are re-enlisting.

Louisiana Poll Telling Long Machine Future

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Louisiana voters electing a governor Tuesday decide whether to keep in power the political organization headed by Gov. Earl Long.

It's a machine he built upon the shattered dynasty of his brother, the late Huey Long, a Louisiana governor and U. S. Senator.

Long, ineligible to succeed himself, is supporting his hand-picked candidate, Carlos Spahit, young political unknown. Spahit, a former district judge, is opposed by Appellate Judge Robert Kennon in a Democratic primary run-off which is equivalent to election in solidly Democratic Louisiana.

The seven candidates who lost out in the Jan. 15 primary have joined Kennon, a veteran office seeker, in a determined effort to halt Long's reign.

Senator Russell Long, son of Huey, has declared he is backing neither Spahit nor Kennon.

16 Oregon primary because he does not have time to campaign in that state. Taft apparently was referring to Taft petitions being circulated by Jack Travis, Hood River publisher and friend of Senator Morse (R-Ore). Morse is an Eisenhower backer.

3. TAFT WILL decide during a visit to Vermont Friday how much campaigning he will do in New Hampshire's preferential primary. Eisenhower and Stassen also are entered in this race.

On the Democratic side, Senator Kefauver of Tennessee was reported by aides as opposed to being entered in the Minnesota primary. Kefauver was quoted as saying he did not want to interfere in the "favorite son" race of Senator Humphrey, who has said if he wins his delegates will be available to President Truman if he seeks the nomination.

Sawyer Sees Chance For Turnpike Steel

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer says he sees a "real possibility" of speeding allocation of steel for Ohio's proposed turnpike on the basis of military need for the super-highway.

Sawyer, after a conference with Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, said that he would suggest a survey of the proposed turnpike's importance to national defense.

The survey was urged by Lausche, who said the turnpike should be an "integral part" of the nation's defense program, since it would run through the heart of Ohio's steel and defense industry area.

"I do feel that from the standpoint of aid to the military effort, no road project in the nation is as vital," Lausche said.

Lausche had said the turnpike was being held up because "prospective bond purchasers stated they would not buy turnpike bonds until a definite assignment of steel is made."

Lausche presented a revised estimate of critical material needs for the turnpike to Manly Fleischmann, administrator of the Defense Production Administration, and to public roads officials.

Willie Sutton Finally Nabbed

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Willie (The Actor) Sutton has emerged from the role of an obscure miser with a $6-a-week room, and was called before a judge as the nation's most-sought bank robber.

Two policemen recognized Sutton on a Brooklyn street Monday to end a vast five-year manhunt. Sutton, 51, was to enter a plea Tuesday on an indictment accusing him of a $64,000 bank holdup here in March, 1950. He was spotted tinkering at his automobile battery because he did not want to pay a garage mechanic $1.50, but police found $7,000 in cash in his pocket and another $2,000 in his $6-a-week room.

87 Persons Involved In Disasters

7 Known Dead, 13 Missing From 2 Disabled Tankers

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The U. S. Coast Guard Tuesday was racing to the aid of three merchant ships, all of whom had sent out distress signals saying they were breaking up in heavy Atlantic seas. Eighty-seven lives were hanging in peril.

The freighter Helen Stevenson, with 35 aboard, had radioed it is in danger of splitting in two about 230 miles northwest of Bermuda.

An SOS message received from the 7,266-ton freighter, the Coast Guard said, reported that cracks across the main deck were widening. The craft sent its first SOS Monday afternoon.

Tuesday morning, Coast Guard searchers spotted 33 survivors on the stern section of the tanker Fort Mercer and at the same time reported no signs of life on the bow of the tanker Pendleton, both of which broke up in a northwest gale off Cape Cod.

Seven of the crewmen are known to be dead and 13 are unaccounted for, while 22 were rescued Monday night from the two helpless tankers.

THE COAST GUARD Cutter McCulloch reported no sign of life aboard the bow of the Pendleton which grounded during the night southeast of Pollock Rip lightship. The safety of the 33 men on the Fort Mercer's stern was reported by the Military Sea Transport Service Freighter Short Splice as rescue operations resumed at dawn.

"We have just contacted the stern of the Fort Mercer," the Short Splice messaged Coast Guard headquarters. "There are 33 survivors aboard. They all seem OK. The stern is riding good."

AMONG THOSE feared lost in the bow of the Pendleton was her skipper, Capt. John Fitzgerald, 38, of Boston.

Thirty-two seamen were rescued from the fourth section by the light of flares in a daring, split-second operation carried out in the face of a screaming northwest storm.

A moment after the rescue, that section of the split tanker was smashed against Chatham Bar by breakers 25 to 30 feet high.

The two tankers apparently broke up at almost the same time Monday in the winter's worst storm off this little fishing port.

Five, and possibly six, men perished Tuesday when they leaped from the tossing bow of the Fort Mercer and missed the bouncing life rafts put out by the Coast Guard Cutter Yakutat.

One man was lost while heroic Coast Guardsmen were taking the 32 seamen from the Pendleton. Still another, although clad in a lifejacket, was swallowed up by the angry seas when he leaped from the Pendleton's bow in an attempt to reach a nearby Coast Guard motor lifeboat.

The Pendleton cracked so swiftly she didn't have time to send out a distress signal.

The Fort Mercer had radioed her plates were cracking and that she was down by the stern.

BUT 2 BIG HURDLES REMAIN

Negotiators OK Final Clause For Armistice

MUNSAN, Feb. 19.—Negotiators have agreed on the final clause of a Korean armistice, but two major hurdles still blocked a truce settlement.

The agreement: to recommend belligerent governments hold a high level political conference within 90 days after an armistice to consider "withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea, the peaceful settlement of the Korean question, etc."

Agreement was reached in a full dress session.

Staff officers were assigned to the job of incorporating the recommendation in the armistice. No date was set for the first staff meeting.

Other staff officers are working on two other uncompleted clauses. But they are skirting around the two big unsettled questions:

1. Voluntary repatriation of prisoners of war.
2. Rebuilding of Red airfields during a truce.

THE WORDING of the political conference recommendation was drafted by the Communists, including the "etc."

The third staff conference meeting was a Communist idea. Red negotiators insisted on it when the United Nations Command accepted the Communist wording for the political conference recommendation, right down to the "etc."

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the UN delegation objected at first. He said "there is nothing for the staff officers to do."

Later, however, he agreed. But a UN spokesman said, Joy stipulated "the staff officers would not be empowered to make any substantive change or addition to the draft recommendation."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il said the meeting of staff officers was necessary to write a preamble and "for proper wording and insertion in the armistice agreement."

Joy's qualification limited the work of staff officers "to completing any mechanical details."

Staff officers working on the prisoner of war clause "continued to make slow progress," a UN spokesman said.

Yanks Down 3 Red Jets

2 Roaring Aerial Duels Reported

SEOUL, Feb. 19.—U. S. Sabrejet pilots Tuesday shot down three Red jet fighter planes in two roaring air fights over Northwest Korea.

Other Allied jet fliers reported they destroyed four locomotives on the Communists' North Korean supply network.

Twenty-six Sabres fought elements of a 50-Mig formation Tuesday afternoon in a five-minute running battle. It started near Sinanju and ended near the Yalu River when the Red fighters fled into Manchuria.

The morning fight was between 2 Sabres and parts of a flight of 100 Mig-15s.

U. S. Fifth Air Force said about 300 Migs were sighted in Northwest Korea Tuesday—100 in the morning and 200 in the afternoon. Allied losses, if any, were not reported.

SHOOTING STAR pilots, sweeping down the main Communist supply route from the Yalu River city of Manpojin, reported they destroyed four locomotives.

The North Koreans' Pyongyang radio reported the Communists have devised new methods with mobile "plane hunting units" in an effort to check the Allies' daily bombing of Red transport routes and supply centers.

The radio quoted Premier Kim Il Sung as saying Red forces now "can operate with speed and shoot down all enemy planes that bomb our positions."

On the ground three Allied raiding parties and one counterattacking UN force ran into stiff opposition Monday. Tanks supported two of the raiding parties.

Allied tankers, riflemen, artillery and mortars killed or wounded an estimated 129 Communists in a two-hour fight around Silver Star Hill south of Pyongyang.

Newark Man Loses License For Five Years

A 39-year-old Newark drunken driver was handed a stiff penalty Monday when he appeared in Pickaway County common pleas court.

The Newark man, Jack B. Bliss, was arrested last weekend by Circleville State Highway Patrolman R. R. Greene for driving while drunk.

Greene had first arrested the man in January, 1950, near Hebron, where the new Circleville patrolman was then stationed. At that time, Bliss was arrested for drunken driving and driving when his license had been revoked.

In Pickaway County common pleas court, Bliss Monday was fined $25 and costs, sentenced to 30 days in jail and had his driving rights suspended for five years for drunken driving. The jail sentence was suspended in favor of probation.

AT THE SAME time, the Newark man was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail for having driven while his license was suspended.

In addition, Newark authorities are seeking the man on an accusation of conversion. Bliss was driving a stolen car when apprehended by Patrolman Greene.

Bliss appeared before the court of Judge William D. Radcliff on affidavits presented by Prosecutor Guy Chine.

Cop-Killing Case Nearing Jury's Hands

CLEVELAND, Feb. 19.—The murder case against George F. Ross, killer of Patrolman Forney L. Haas, is expected to be turned over to the jury sometime Tuesday.

As exhibits, the jury will consider: three guns, two typewritten confessions, Haas' bullet-torn uniform, Ross' poetry written when he was a boy in Warren, and watches, jewelry, and clothing that he stole as a house burglar before he shot Haas Dec. 8.

One of Ross' two attorneys, Lester J. Farber, argued before the jury Monday that, in a sense, it was Haas' own fault that he was shot.

Haas arrested Ross on a minor traffic violation. He should have called a detective or taken him to jail, rather than escort him to his rooming house, where he was shot, said Farber.

"It is up to you, ladies and gentlemen of the jury," he said, "to decide why he took Ross up to his room."

"We have a burglar here. Had he ever shot anyone before? Has any ill will been shown in him by the evidence? There was no intent to kill."

BUT 2 BIG HURDLES REMAIN

Negotiators OK Final Clause For Armistice

MUNSAN, Feb. 19.—(P)—Negotiators have agreed on the final clause of a Korean armistice, but two major hurdles still blocked a truce settlement.

The agreement: to recommend belligerent governments hold a high level political conference within 90 days after an armistice to consider "withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea, the peaceful settlement of the Korean question, etc."

Agreement was reached in a full dress session.

Staff officers were assigned to the job of incorporating the recommendation in the armistice. No date was set for the first staff meeting.

Other staff officers are working on two other uncompleted clauses. But they are skirting around the two big unsettled questions:

1. Voluntary repatriation of prisoners of war.

2. Rebuilding of Red airfields during a truce.

THE WORDING of the political conference recommendation was drafted by the Communists, including the "etc."

The third staff conference meeting was a Communist idea. Red negotiators insisted on it when the United Nations Command accepted the Communist wording for the political conference recommendation, right down to the "etc."

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the UN delegation objected at first. He said "there is nothing for the staff officers to do."

Later, however, he agreed. But, a UN communiqué said, Joy stipulated "the staff officers would not be empowered to make any substantive change or addition to the draft recommendation."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il said the meeting of staff officers was necessary to write a preamble and "for proper wording and insertion in the armistice agreement."

Joy's qualification limited the work of staff officers "to completing any mechanical details."

Staff officers working on the prisoner of war clause "continued to make slow progress," a UN communiqué said.

Yanks Down 3 Red Jets

2 Roaring Aerial Duels Reported

SEOUL, Feb. 19.—(P)—U. S. Sabrejet pilots Tuesday shot down three Red jet fighter planes in two roaring air fights over Northwest Korea.

Other Allied jet fliers reported they destroyed four locomotives on the Communists' North Korean supply network.

Twenty-six Sabres fought elements of a 50-Mig formation Tuesday afternoon in a five-minute running battle. It started near Sinanju and ended near the Yalu River when the Red fighters fled into Manchuria.

The morning fight was between 27 Sabres and parts of a flight of 100 Mig-15s.

U. S. Fifth Air Force said about 300 Migs were sighted in Northwest Korea Tuesday—100 in the morning and 200 in the afternoon.

Allied losses, if any, were not reported.

SHOOTING STAR pilots, sweeping down the main Communist supply route from the Yalu River city of Manpojin, reported they destroyed four locomotives.

The North Koreans' Pyongyang radio reported the Communists have devised new methods with mobile "plane hunting units" in an effort to check the Allies' daily bombing of Red transport routes and supply centers.

The radio quoted Premier Kim Il Sung as saying Red forces now "can operate with speed and shoot down all enemy planes that bomb our positions."

On the ground three Allied raiding parties and one counterattacking UN force ran into stiff opposition Monday. Tanks supported two of the raiding parties.

Allied tankers, riflemen, artillery and mortars killed or wounded an estimated 129 Communists in a two-hour fight around Silver Star Hill south of Pyongyang.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 — (AP)—The fabulous piece of desert-bound real estate called the Kuwait has moved into the Middle East oil picture as possibly Britain's trump card in its bitter dispute with Iran.

There are signs that Iran's fiery prime minister, Mohammed Mossadegh, realizes this and is getting increasingly jittery over his prospects of victory.

Ever since Iran nationalized Britain's billion dollar oil properties, production in the Kuwait has been going up and up. Right now this desert sheikdom, an Arabian port at the mouth of the Persian Gulf, is turning out 640,000 barrels of oil daily, replacing nearly half of Iran's output.

Added to stepped-up production in Saudi Arabia, Iraq and the Western Hemisphere, the rich flow of oil from Kuwait has enabled the West to get by without too much difficulty since last summer when oil stopped moving from Iran.

MOSSADEGH is faced with the bleak prospect that oil production in the Kuwait and Saudi Arabia can be boosted even more in the next few months, if necessary. In the meantime, his government, without British oil royalties to count on, is heading for bankruptcy unless something is done.

Some American and British oil experts think Mossadegh already has killed the goose that laid Iran's golden egg. Even if he were to reach a settlement with Britain tomorrow, they believe the West would continue to rely more heavily on trouble-free areas like Saudi Arabia, the Kuwait and Iraq in the Middle East rather than Iran.

Further, there are indications that the Sheik of Kuwait and King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia would in effect insist that their stepped-up oil production be kept at the same level.

These governments could argue very forcefully that they helped out in a pinch and should not be tossed aside when things ease up. Regardless of development, Kuwait, which is about the size of the state of Delaware, appears to have a gold-lined future. A new agreement with the British-American Oil Co., which operates the fields there, assures it of a 50-50 division of profits.

This is expected to amount to $150 million in royalties alone during this year—not bad for a desert wasteland inhabited by some 100,000 Arabs.

Lima Man, 5, Killed In Fall From Airplane

LIMA, Feb. 19 — (AP)—George Gary, 55, was killed Monday when he fell out of the open cockpit of a stunt private plane near Lima, Peru.

Bruce Overmeyer, a Lima steep-leak, was flying the two-seater Fairchild which he owned. Witnesses saw something fall out of the plane at about 1,500 or 2,000 feet. A searching party found Gary's body several miles from the airport.

One witness, Clinton Morris, said the plane took off without any warning. He said he saw it start two loops, stalling on both of them. Overmeyer landed a few minutes later at the airport, looked in the back seat of the plane, then ran to a pickup truck and drove away.

State Highway Patrolman A. T. Garlock, who found Overmeyer at his home, quoted the pilot as saying:

"I know it—he wasn't there. What do you suppose they'll do to me for this?"

Prosecutor Walter White said he would file manslaughter charges against Overmeyer.

Kiwanians Told ODH's Stand On Fluoridation

Primary purpose of Ohio Department of Health, division of dental hygiene, is the promotion of dental health, according to Dr. H. B. Millhoff, chief of the division.

Millhoff made the statement in an address to members and guests of Circleville Kiwanis Club Monday evening.

Dr. Millhoff reviewed the division's interest in fluoridation of the water supply as a preventative measure in dental hygiene, but warned his listeners, "don't throw away your toothbrushes if the fluoridation system is installed here. It is not a cure-all for dental decay."

"Prevention is the only means to meet the problem of caring for the great number of children in Ohio who need dental treatment. There is a shortage of dentists and teeth are decaying faster than they can be treated," he said.

DR. MILLHOFF repeated that fluoridation of the water supply is approved by the state department only if it is also approved by the local dental society, the health department and the local water department.

He said: "Fluoridation produces no change in the color, taste or smell of the water. It should not be regarded as mass medication since it cures nothing. It is only a preventative agent."

Guests attending the meeting were Ervin Leist, head of Circleville's water department, Dr. John Bowers, Dr. Joe Goeller and Dr. G. D. Phillips.

During the meeting, Frank Marion was presented with a one-year perfect attendance tab and Paul White was elected a director to the organization.

A rehearsal of Kiwanis minstrel was held after the meeting.

Ohio Elevators To Be Curbed In Grain Deals

TOLEDO, Feb. 19 — (AP)—Federal Judge Frank Kloeb is to sign papers Tuesday ordering two Wyandot County grain elevator firms to stop selling their property in order to finance purchases of thousands of bushels of corn.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Marcul L. Friedman said corn purchases by the Sycamore Mill & Supply Co. of Sycamore and the Walton and Mayers Elevator Co. of Upper Sandusky had reached the "panic stage."

What these firms are trying to do, he contended, is to replace 299,061 bushels of government-owned corn that "just disappeared" from their elevators. The shortage was discovered last month.

The heavy buying, he said, will force up the price of corn on the open market.

The government already has sued the firms for $1,354,586 for the missing corn, which had been stored by the Commodity Credit Corp. as part of its farm price support program.

Originally, the government says, 728,816 bushels were stored in the two concerns' elevators. In January, only 429,755 bushel were there, it claims.

Kiwanians Told ODH's Stand On Fluoridation

Primary purpose of Ohio Department of Health, division of dental hygiene, is the promotion of dental health, according to Dr. H. B. Millhoff, chief of the division.

Millhoff made the statement in an address to members and guests of Circleville Kiwanis Club Monday evening.

Dr. Millhoff reviewed the division's interest in fluoridation of the water supply as a preventative measure in dental hygiene, but warned his listeners, "don't throw away your toothbrushes if the fluoridation system is installed here. It is not a cure-all for dental decay."

"Prevention is the only means to meet the problem of caring for the great number of children in Ohio who need dental treatment. There is a shortage of dentists and teeth are decaying faster than they can be treated," he said.

DR. MILLHOFF repeated that fluoridation of the water supply is approved by the state department only if it is also approved by the local dental society, the health department and the local water department.

He said: "Fluoridation produces no change in the color, taste or smell of the water. It should not be regarded as mass medication since it cures nothing. It is only a preventative agent."

Guests attending the meeting were Ervin Leist, head of Circleville's water department, Dr. John Bowers, Dr. Joe Goeller and Dr. G. D. Phillips.

During the meeting, Frank Marion was presented with a one-year perfect attendance tab and Paul White was elected a director to the organization.

A rehearsal of Kiwanis minstrel was held after the meeting.

Commissioners Plan New Road

Pickaway County commissioners Monday resolved to construct a new roadway just north of the Ashville corporation line.

The new roadway, planned to be 50 feet wide and 179 feet long, is to be in the Bishop subdivision, an extension of a street already present in the location.

According to plans, the commissioners are to extend the street to the Norfolk and Western Railway, which is already paralleled by another road.

Ohio Elevators To Be Curbed In Grain Deals

TOLEDO, Feb. 19 — (P)—Federal Judge Frank Kloebe is to sign papers Tuesday ordering two Wyandot County grain elevator firms to stop selling their property in order to finance purchases of thousands of bushels of corn.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Marcul L. Friedman said corn purchases by the Sycamore Mill & Supply Co. of Sycamore and the Walton and Mayers Elevator Co. of Upper Sandusky had reached the "panic stage."

What these firms are trying to do, he contended, is to replace 299,061 bushels of government-owned corn that "just disappeared" from their elevators. The shortage was discovered last month.

The heavy buying, he said, will force up the price of corn on the open market.

The government already has sued the firms for $1,354,586 for the missing corn, which had been stored by the Commodity Credit Corp. as part of its farm price support program.

Originally, the government says, 728,816 bushels were stored in the two concerns' elevators. In January, only 429,755 bushel were there, it claims.

YOUR SHARE 'HIGHJACKED'?

Average Yank 36 Pct. Better Off Than In '39

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 19 — (AP)—The average American consumer is living 36 per cent better than in 1939. This is his per capita share of the rise in production of consumer goods and services over pre-war output.

If you haven't gotten your share, inflation has probably "highjacked" it and delivered it to somebody else, says the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Co.

Actually the total production of all consumer goods and services is up 60 per cent from 1939, but the supply per person is only 36 per cent larger because the population is 24 million greater than it was in 1939.

Food production is 35 per cent larger, or 14 per cent more per capita; this shrinks to about 11 per cent more per capita after allowing for increased U. S. exports of food. In spite of defense activities, U. S. factory civilian goods production is greater by an estimated 80 per cent than the prewar volume, yielding nearly 55 per cent more manufactured goods for each consumer.

Volume of services—medical attention, hotel lodgings, dry cleaning, etc.—is nearly 65 per cent greater, or about 40 per cent more service available per capita.

THESE ARE increases in actual goods and services for better living, the report emphasizes, adding that "this is what has really raised our American standard of living, and not the vast increase in the number of dollars in circulation, which has merely produced the inflation that has cheated millions out of their share of the improvement."

Because the total number of dol-

Local Poultrymen Are Advised To Pamper Chicks

Successful poultrymen will pamper the baby chicks they will be buying in local hatcheries this Spring.

"About the best way to treat chicks is to be just as fussy about their comfort as the old hen used to be," reports Extension Agent Larry Best. "This is especially true during the first 48 hours after chicks have been put with the brooder."

Best said when chicks huddle, they probably are too warm. If they spread in a ring some distance from the brooder, they must be cold. Chicks that are comfortable as far as temperature is concerned will be active and evenly distributed around the brooder. Under-hoover temperature for starting chicks is 90 to 95 degrees.

If poultrymen put heavy paper or wire guards around hovers for the first few days, it will eliminate corners where chicks can crowd. If the whole house is being used, it's a good idea to round out house corners with wire or paper.

During the first few days, Best added, chicks will find feed more quickly if it is in low, flat feeders, such as pie tins or paper plates. A little cracked corn, sprinkled on mash, will attract attention to the feed. Extra feeders and waterers will pay during the first few days.

Youth's Quaker Belief Questioned

CLEVELAND, Feb. 19 — (AP)—A draft board chairman says James Johnston Relyea of Shaker Heights, who is accused of refusing to take the oath of Army induction, became a Quaker to "suit his convenience."

This statement was made in federal court by Arthur A. Beduhn, chairman of Board 32 here. He said he did not think Relyea was "sincere in his own religious beliefs." Relyea, who is 23, said he became interested in the Society of Friends, a Quaker organization, while he was a student at Oberlin College, later becoming one of the 20 "convinced members" of the Oberlin Friends Meeting.

Douglas Sorry For 'Poor Ike'

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 — (AP)—Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) believes that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower apparently won't get the Republican presidential nomination, but could have the Democratic nomination if he wanted it. "It looks as though Eisenhower is not going to get the nomination he wants and does not want the nomination he can get," Douglas said. "I am afraid the poor fellow is going to fall between two stools."

Korea Veterans Eligible For Dental Care

Veterans of the Korean conflict—any serviceman having active duty since June 27, 1950—may get immediate dental examinations by reporting to the closest VA office. In this area, the closest VA office is 48 Starling street, Columbus. The dental clinics are authorized to take complete x-rays, even though the veteran has filed no previous VA claim.

The examination reports are then sent by the VA to the regional office in Cincinnati for rating. All Korean veterans should do this within one year after discharge, even though they are not in immediate need of dental care.

Service connection may be granted for any dental defects found within one year after discharge. Any Korean veteran wishing to go to Columbus for the dental exam should first notify James P. Shea, veterans service officer, in Pickaway Courthouse.

Until 1870, departure from Japan by a native was an offense punishable by death.

No Place for a Heavy Foot!

You'd find it out, in a mile or so, even if we failed to tell you. But we think it's best if we tell you now—

—you must treat the accelerator with special respect when you drive the Golden Anniversary Cadillac!

Down under the hood of this gorgeous car is the most powerful engine ever used in standard American production.

So take it easy—wherever you drive.

Don't use that power to bolt away when the light turns green—and other cars have their ways to make in the traffic lanes beside you. And never use it for unnecessary speed, or for dominating the highway.

Use it, instead, for the thing it was put there for—

—use it to give you that easy, floating, comforting ride which can come only when your engine is "loafing," and most of its power is in luxurious reserve—

—use it to give you that "shot ahead" when an opening shows in the traffic line—or when your safety calls for a blast of power—

—use it for a thrilling sense of mastery over car and time and space—

—use it, in short, for happiness and luxury—and for adding satisfaction to every mile you drive.

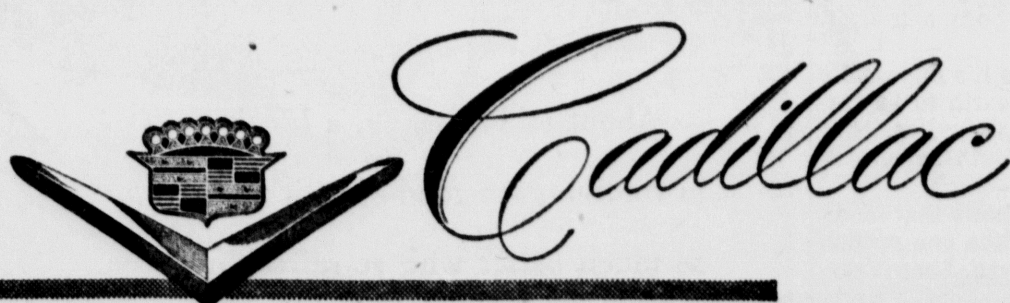

As you would expect, this amazing performance is but one of the wonderful virtues that have been added to the Golden Anniversary Cadillac.

There is marvelous new beauty—inside and outside. There is a wholly new type of power steering—available as optional equipment at extra cost. And there are literally scores of refinements and improvements of vital importance.

For its "year of years," Cadillac has certainly built its "car of cars."

Come in and see it—whether you feel you are ready for a Cadillac or not. It's an inspiration to inspect it—and an experience to drive it.

But if you do drive it, please remember—it's no place for a heavy foot!

THESE ARE increases in actual goods and services for better living, the report emphasizes, adding that "this is what has really raised our American standard of living, and not the vast increase in the number of dollars in circulation, which has merely produced the inflation that has cheated millions out of their share of the improvement."

Because the total number of dollars in circulation has tripled since 1939 while total production of consumer goods and services is only a little over half again as great, there are now nearly twice as many dollars outstanding per unit of goods as in 1939. So each dollar "claim-ticket" is worth only about half as much goods as a prewar dollar.

This inflation of the money supply has taken away buying power, and therefore goods, from people living on savings, war bonds, insurance policies, and fixed or near-fixed incomes, and has added those goods to the shares of other groups, says the report.

The one-third increase in total U. S. food production has been achieved by actually one-fourth fewer farm workers; it is due to improved farming methods and a $10 billion investment in new farm machinery since 1939, says the report. Increase in output of other goods and in services is partly due to an investment of $150 billion in new industrial plants and equipment since 1939, and partly to a 50 per cent rise in the number of people doing non-farm work, including a drop in unemployment from 9 1/2 million in 1939 to 1 1/2 million at the end of 1951.

"As rising defense production begins to cut into output for civilians, our average living standard may recede somewhat from the 36-per-cent-above-1939 level," the report suggests.

No Place for a Heavy Foot!

You'd find it out, in a mile or so, even if we failed to tell you. But we think it's best if we tell you now—
—you must treat the accelerator with special respect when you drive the Golden Anniversary Cadillac!

Down under the hood of this gorgeous car is the most powerful engine ever used in standard American production.

So take it easy—wherever you drive.

Don't use that power to bolt away when the light turns green—and other cars have their ways to make in the traffic lanes beside you. And never use it for unnecessary speed, or for dominating the highway.

Use it, instead, for the thing it was put there for—
—use it to give you that easy, floating, comforting ride which can come only when your engine is "loafing," and most of its power is in luxurious reserve—
—use it to give you that "shot ahead" when an opening shows in the traffic line—or when your safety calls for a blast of power—
—use it for a thrilling sense of mastery over car and time and space—
—use it, in short, for happiness and luxury—and for adding satisfaction to every mile you drive.

As you would expect, this amazing performance is but one of the wonderful virtues that have been added to the Golden Anniversary Cadillac.

There is marvelous new beauty—inside and outside. There is a wholly new type of power steering—available as an optional equipment at extra cost. And there are literally scores of refinements and improvements of vital importance.

For its "year of years," Cadillac has certainly built its "car of cars."

Come in and see it—whether you feel you are ready for a Cadillac or not. It's an inspiration to inspect it—and an experience to drive it.

But if you do drive it, please remember—it's no place for a heavy foot!

Goodchild-Kellstadt Rites Are Read At Nuptial High Mass Saturday Morning

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

I've always been puzzled over the prevailing practice of having larger classes in the primary grades than in the upper grades and high schools. Indeed, administrators, in setting standards for ideal class-size, name a greater number of pupils for the first and second grades than for high school, and build and furnish classrooms accordingly.

The assumption seems to be that the child at six or eight needs less individual attention than does the adolescent; that the longer a child is in school, the less self-reliance and responsibility he should have.

Until recent years, teachers at the junior and senior high school level with the same professional preparation, were paid more than primary grade teachers. Fortunately, this practice is disappearing.

WITH SO MANY schools overcrowded, a temporary means for reducing the congestion has been the split sessions in high schools and upper grades, with each half of the class attending only half-day sessions.

A mother writes to propose that, in greatly overcrowded schools, the split session might better be employed in the primary grades rather than in the higher grades.

"Dear Dr. Myers: Your recent discussion of overcrowded schools makes me wonder why it is never suggested that overcrowded classes in the lower grades cannot be alleviated by splitting the class in two and having each half attend half a day. I realize split sessions are commonplace in the higher grades of elementary schools and in high schools, but it seems to be practically avoided in the lower grades.

"If a forty-hour week is a suitable work week for an adult, it would seem to follow that a thirty-hour week is excessive for a six- or seven-year-old. The more so since an adult is usually doing work for which he has had either special training or experience, while the child is constantly being led to the new and unknown.

"IN ADDITION, the Bulletin of the Michigan Department of Health states: "Dr. E. A. Betts, Director of the Reading Clinic at Temple University, says that 80 per cent of six-year-olds are not visually mature enough to read. What are we doing to the other children? Some will rebel and become educationally harmed. At least they will become nervous, over-fatigued and irritable."

Except to those parents who think of the school as a place to park their children, this proposal should make a lot of sense. What do you think about it?

Answering Parents' Questions
Q. Our daughter, who is in the first grade, was fitted with glasses by an eye specialist. Though she rarely forgets or loses any of her other things, she often forgets where she has left her glasses.

A. It is obvious that she dislikes wearing them. With the help of all your friends, try to build in her a pride in wearing her glasses and to make her feel worthy and happy in the family. It may take a lot of patience and resourcefulness on your part.

Q. A CERTAIN MOTHER of a bed-wetting boy, eight, gives him a penny every morning when his bed is dry and charges him a penny every morning when he awakens wet; but she is discouraged as the lad is getting into debt.

A. She might win if she gave the reward for each success and omitted any kind of penalty for each failure.

Elephant tusks are man's principal source of ivory.

Lost 22 Lbs. Without Dieting

Mrs. Harold M. Miller, 3905 Kitzmiller Rd., R. 1, Blacklick, Ohio writes: "After trying many reducing methods without success I decided to try Rengel Concentrate, and I'm certainly glad I did. I had read of so many people having success with Rengel, and now I can recommend it too. When I started taking Rengel I weighed 152 lbs. Now I have reduced 22 lbs. and without dieting too. My health and appearance have both improved."

Thousands have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. You need never know a hungry moment reducing with Rengel.

Public Functions OK'd By Queen

LONDON, Feb. 19.—Queen Elizabeth II wants public functions connected with Britain's government, trade, charity or arts to take place as scheduled despite mourning for her father, King George VI.

The announcement said however, "holding of other functions must be left to the discretion of the organizers, who may wish to allow a week or two to elapse before recommending arrangements."

Teacher Shortage Near Critical Era

COLUMBUS, Feb. 19.—Ohio may face a critical shortage of teachers by 1956, unless the schools find a way to attract young persons to the profession.

That was the opinion three experts expressed Sunday in a panel discussion on the Columbus Town Meeting radio-TV program. George J. Kabat, dean of Ohio University's college of education, said many high school pupils are saying: "Why should I go to college to become a teacher when I can go right out and get a good paying job now?"

Agency Secrecy Brings Corruption

CLEVELAND, Feb. 19.—James S. Pope of Louisville, official of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, says the three federal agencies named by newsmen as least cooperative are "now being blown sky-high by scandals." They are the Reconstruction Finance Corp., the Department of Justice and the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

"They are the ones named (last year) by every correspondent as places where you were just wasting your time trying to get information," Pope continued. The scandals, he declared, illustrate the "basic principle that secrecy breeds corruption."

FACTS ABOUT MONEY!

POSTAGE STAMP MONEY

Due to the need of metals, the start of the Civil War brought on a scarcity of small coins. The use of postage stamps, placed in a mica-covered disc, came into general use. The backs of these discs were often used for advertising and so this "Necessity Money", as it was known, served both as fractional currency and advertising matter.

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

I've always been puzzled over the prevailing practice of having larger classes in the primary grades than in the upper grades and high schools. Indeed, administrators, in setting standards for ideal class-size, name a greater number of pupils for the first and second grades than for high school, and build and furnish classrooms accordingly.

The assumption seems to be that the child at six or eight needs less individual attention than does the adolescent; that the longer a child is in school, the less self-reliance and responsibility he should have.

Until recent years, teachers at the junior and senior high school level with the same professional preparation, were paid more than primary grade teachers. Fortunately, this practice is disappearing.

WITH SO MANY schools overcrowded, a temporary means for reducing the congestion has been the split sessions in high schools and upper grades, with each half of the class attending only half-day sessions.

A mother writes to propose that, in greatly overcrowded schools, the split session might better be employed in the primary grades rather than in the higher grades.

"Dear Dr. Myers: Your recent discussion of overcrowded schools makes me wonder why it is never suggested that overcrowded classes in the lower grades cannot be alleviated by splitting the class in two and having each half attend half a day. I realize split sessions are commonplace in the higher grades of elementary schools and in high schools, but it seems to be practically avoided in the lower grades.

"If a forty-hour week is a suitable work week for an adult, it would seem to follow that a thirty-hour week is excessive for a six- or seven-year-old. The more so since an adult is usually doing work for which he has had either special training or experience, while the child is constantly being led to the new and unknown.

"IN ADDITION, the Bulletin of the Michigan Department of Health states: "Dr. E. A. Betts, Director of the Reading Clinic at Temple University, says that 80 per cent of six-year-olds are not visually mature enough to read. What are we doing to the other children? Some will rebel and become educationally harmed. At least they will become nervous, over-fatigued and irritable."

Except to those parents who think of the school as a place to park their children, this proposal should make a lot of sense. What do you think about it?

Answering Parents' Questions

Q. Our daughter, who is in the first grade, was fitted with glasses by an eye specialist. Though she rarely forgets or loses any of her other things, she often forgets where she has left her glasses.

A. It is obvious that she dislikes wearing them. With the help of all your friends, try to build in her a pride in wearing her glasses and to make her feel worthy and happy in the family. It may take a lot of patience and resourcefulness on your part.

Q. A CERTAIN MOTHER of a bed-wetting boy, eight, gives him a penny every morning when his bed is dry and charges him a penny every morning when he awakens wet; but she is discouraged as the lad is getting into debt.

A. She might win if she gave the reward for each success and omitted any kind of penalty for each failure.

Red-Tainted Unions Bring New Study

Senate Probe Panel Reveals Results Of Detailed Findings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Labor, management, and government officials agree something should be done about Communist-dominated unions, but they can't get together on how to tackle the problem.

A Senate Labor Subcommittee says even labor leaders disagreed among themselves except on one point—Labor is slowly weeding out Communism in its ranks, and wants no new laws in this field.

Highlights of the House committee's findings of its lengthy hearing and investigations, and its recommendations:

1. It accused the motion picture industry of failing to take "positive and determined steps" to weed out Communists. It said despite its Reds-in-Hollywood hearings over the years, it found last year that Communist infiltration has not lessened.

2. The committee said its 1951 investigations "definitely established" that the strongest labor union in Hawaii, the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, was under "complete Communist domination."

3. IT SAID pronouncements of the Methodist Federation for Social Action since 1928 frequently denounced Communism, but "only one denunciation of Communism was noted." The organization was described as "strictly unofficial as a church organization xxx trying to use the prestige of the Methodist church."

4. The committee report criticized the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for allowing mathematics professor Dr. Dirk J. Struik, identified by a former undercover agent as an active Communist, to continue teaching until he was indicted by a grand jury.

5. It announced plans to question further Oliver Edmund Clubb, State Department foreign service official who quit government service after being cleared by the department's loyalty board.

6. The committee recommended: Laws making peacetime espionage subject to the death penalty, like wartime spying; the same kind of travel restrictions on diplomats from Soviet and satellite countries that those countries now impose on American diplomats; laws to make wiretapped evidence admissible in court; and for immunity from prosecution for witnesses whose testimony is essential to investigations.

Bricker Says GOP Would Halt Reds

DELAWARE, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio), who is seeking reelection, said here Monday a Republican administration could devise a "positive foreign policy" and halt the "surrender to Communism." He claimed the Democratic administration is carrying the United States down the "same road to Socialism" that Great Britain took.

Bricker spoke to 2,000 students at Ohio Wesleyan University's annual Institute of Practical Politics and declared the Republican Party should "go into this campaign dedicated to the preservation of liberty, human freedom and the essential inalienable rights that men enjoy."

He claimed the Democratic administration is carrying the United States down the "same road to Socialism" that Great Britain took.

Bricker spoke to 2,000 students at Ohio Wesleyan University's annual Institute of Practical Politics and declared the Republican Party should "go into this campaign dedicated to the preservation of liberty, human freedom and the essential inalienable rights that men enjoy."

Local Chapter Outlines Red Cross Disaster Program

Aid Given To 300,000 Last Year

1950 'Big Snow' Cited As Last Emergency Here

Editor's note: Following is the second in a series of stories about the Pickaway County Red Cross Chapter to explain the work being done by the Red Cross and to give a clear picture of the ways in which voluntary contributions are used throughout the year.

More than 300,000 persons required assistance in 300 domestic disaster relief operations in 1951.

Three hurricanes, 36 tornadoes, 14 other storms, 65 floods, 158 fires, and 27 miscellaneous accidents such as explosions and train wrecks brought disaster to these 300,000 persons.

Catastrophes destroyed 13,100 buildings, damaged 172,600 others and killed 500 persons.

Every one of these disasters was a headline news story—and those involved sought aid from the American Red Cross.

Pickaway County is no more immune from disaster than were those communities in 45 different states in which disaster did strike last year. When disaster strikes in any community it is important that aid be forthcoming quickly.

THE RED CROSS, which has been designated by Congress as the official agency for handling emergency care and rehabilitation in all natural disasters in the country, as well as coordinating the efforts of other volunteer groups in such emergencies, has in each of its 3,750 chapters throughout the United States a well-organized and ready-to-function disaster preparedness set-up.

The last occasion that the local disaster committee was called into action was during the big snow storm in 1950. Several hundred persons were cared for during that emergency.

Pickaway County cannot expect to be equipped properly to meet any kind of disaster unless

Thomases Return Following Visit In California

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Thomas of near Circleville have returned from a month's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dresbach, originally from Circleville, who have been residents of San Diego, Calif., for the last four years.

During the course of the visit, the two couples drove to Las Vegas, Nevada, for several days.

Following this trip, they returned to San Diego and then flew to Mazatlan, Mexico. They boarded their plane in Tijuana, Mexico, just south of San Diego on the Mexican border, and flew the 1000 mile passage to land in the tropical city of Mazatlan on the Gulf of California.

While enjoying their two week visit, they caught a 164-pound sail fish. During their entire stay in Mazatlan, the weather averaged 80 degrees and they enjoyed surf bathing.

After a pleasant return trip flying, the couples motored down the lower California coast to Ensenada, Mexico, 100 miles south of San Diego for another few days.

Stabs Bring Death

CLEVELAND, Feb. 19.—(P)—Police say they will file homicide charges against Mrs. Izellar Rudd, 41, who they said stabbed her husband, Eudell, 33, last July in an argument over a television set. Rudd died Sunday of complications resulting from the wound.

funds are made available by the county in its $10,855 budget goal for 1952.

When disaster strikes, it is too late to make plans that will function immediately unless the basic groundwork has been laid ahead of time.

Residents of the county affected by any disaster will receive their aid through the local chapter and its cooperation with the National Red Cross.

Special emphasis will be given by the local chapter board to a greater development of this area of Red Cross work during the coming year. Boyd Stout is the chairman of the local disaster committee.

Thief Gives Cops A Real Mystery

CLEVELAND, Feb. 19.—(P)—Some thief has left Cleveland detectives with a puzzling "locked room" case. He made off with business calculators from the Burroughs Adding Machine Co.

Jap Bastardy Claim Maintained

TOKYO, Feb. 19.—(P)—The newspaper Yomiuri is standing firm behind its assertion U. S. troops had fathered 200,000 bastards in Japan since the end of World War II.

It said the figure was based on data supplied by Japanese government officials. The officials, it said, declined use of their names because they feared the "displeasure" of the occupation.

Bad Timing Traps Montreal Arsonist

MONTREAL, Feb. 19.—(P)—A 23-year-old man ran breathlessly into a fire station here crying: "Where's the fire?"

CELINA, Feb. 19.—(P)—Charles A. Cunningham, 69, died here Monday after he was hit by a police car in St. Marys. A physician said the shock of the accident aggravated an old heart ailment suffered by Cunningham.

Business Better Here To Date Than Last Year

Business was better than average in Pickaway County during the week ending Feb. 2, according to a report of prepaid sales tax stamp purchases here.

Local merchants purchased $5,114.24 worth of stamps here to complete their business during that week, while a year ago they needed only $4,370.38 worth.

At the same time, Pickaway County's purchases of stamps were less than those in surrounding counties. Other counties reported sales as follows: Ross, $12,449; Fairfield, $9,220; and Fayette, $6,342.

In the general overall picture for the state, sales are much better this year than at a similar period in 1951. Increases have been noted in sales of food, clothing, automotive, furniture and miscellaneous bartering.

Only decrease reported was in transactions involving general stores and department stores.

Civil Rights Rated Top Issue

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(P)—Walter P. Reuther, head of the CIO United Auto Workers, rates passage of civil rights legislation "the most important political and civil issue" of this year's election campaign.

"Hundreds of millions of people throughout the world, whom we seek to win as our allies in the struggle against Communist tyranny, will judge us more by what we do on the issue of civil rights than on any other single issue," he said.

The Flemish artist Rubens was the most prolific painter in the world, producing about 1,800 pictures.

HIGHER RATES ARE INEVITABLE

This is just another way of saying that public utility rates have no special immunity from the economic laws governing wages and prices in general industry.

Until recently, Columbia's earnings have continued reasonably satisfactory because of the constant increase in the volume of sales. But now, despite increased operating efficiencies, rising costs of doing business and increased taxes have caught up to us.

The cost of everything we buy—just like the cost of your everyday living—is far higher now than in 1941.

Yet, the cost of gas to our domestic customer has not changed much in all those 10 years.

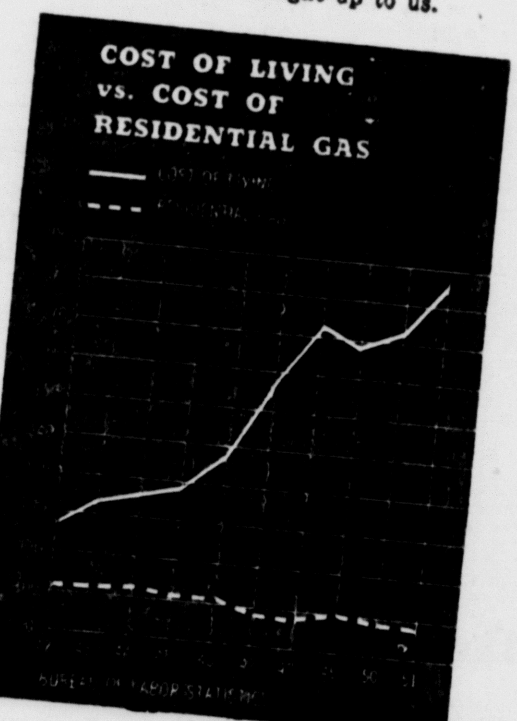

Look at the chart!

Our customers certainly must appreciate that higher gas rates are inevitable.

If we are to continue high quality service to our customers; if we are to satisfy the demands for more and more gas, we must earn more money. Not enough to put our bills to our customers up to the inflated level of other "cost of living" expenses. But enough so we can meet our obligations as a public service company and protect the investments of our stockholders.

This is the gist of the story we are telling in full detail to the Public Service Commissions which regulate our rates.

We hope that our customers, many of whom are also our stockholders—or, if not ours, stockholders in other public service companies who face the identical problem, realize that higher utility rates are inevitable.
